Lana has extensive experience in health care law, health care litigation, and regulatory compliance. She has represented numerous Medical Societies for many years and continues to represent a wide array of health care professionals and medical practices. Her practice includes administrative legal matters and health law litigation in New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania.

As the chair of the Firm's Health Care Practice, Lana works with physicians, dentists, nurses, and other health care professionals, as well as health care businesses, to help them navigate the complex and constantly evolving legal health care environment.

Lana has devoted her legal career to helping health care professionals by providing proactive legal advice or helping them get out of legal trouble, so that they can focus on the practice of medicine and taking care of their patients. With busy schedules and demanding practices, health care professionals do not have time to keep up with the myriad and evolving laws and regulations pertaining to the practice of medicine. Lana strongly believes that taking proactive legal measures is just like practicing proactive medicine...it can be less costly and result in better outcomes than reactive measures.
